

You tell people
you run your own business.

But if the truth is -
your business has started running you...

At re: messaging solutions
we understand business.

- We know you can't just walk away from it.
- You need to know what's going on.
- You need to stay connected to your customers.
- You need to respond to inquiries from new prospects.
- You also need some uninterrupted time:
  - to get that important job finished
  - to attend those networking events
  - to revamp your plans for growth
- And sometimes you just need a little time off to recharge, to reconnect with family and friends.

re: messaging solutions offers services that allow you to take back control of your day, of your business, of your life, while still meeting expectations for excellent customer service.

Day or night, every one of your incoming phone calls will be answered by a friendly, professional receptionist and managed with care according to your instructions.

Your incoming email messages will be screened and processed as you've directed. We can respond to routine inquiries, forward messages to different individuals, and alert you when a priority response is needed from you personally.

Clients can place orders or book appointments in minutes without interrupting you. Your order database and schedule will be updated immediately via the internet.

re: messaging solutions is for business owners who want to build their image and reputation as a professional company - a great way to attract new clients.

It's for people who want to provide better customer service to increase repeat business and word of mouth referrals.

It's for managers who want to be more organized, more efficient and more successful.

It's for everyone who wants to work smarter (not harder) to reach their goals.

Call now to speak with a re: messaging expert who will work with you to design a customized service package to meet your unique needs.
